

Bachelor of Arts in History

Explore Civilization's Rich Past

Bachelor of Arts
4-year program

Your Possible Career Paths & Areas of Continued Study:

- Teaching
- Archival Management
- Curator
- Research
- Law
- Politics
- Heritage Preservation
- Journalism
- Foreign Service
- Ministry
- Divinity
- International Relations

Did you know?

on November 6, 1867 the Canadian Parliament sat for the first time!

HISTORY AT CRANDALL

Learning to ask the right questions, to think logically and express yourself both clearly and succinctly are all hallmarks of Crandall's B. A. in History program. The major encompasses the study of Western civilization and focuses on the rise of the West within the world context.

Through interesting guest speakers, lively class discussions and extensive readings, you'll expand your understanding of humankind and your faith as it relates to other religions and world events, both past and current.

The skills gained through this challenging B. A. in History curriculum will prepare you well for a broad range of career pathways, including graduate or law school.

What to expect when you graduate

A B. A. in History provides an excellent background for students who wish to become teachers, researchers, lawyers, politicians, journalists, ministers and heritage preservationists. A major in History is an excellent springboard to graduate school or law school.

Special Program Highlights

- Get to know your professors and classmates well by being a part of small classes that engage in lively group discussions.
- It's not about memorizing dates with a B. A. in History at Crandall! Explore the "why" and "how" behind historic events.
- You may choose to study history overseas at Oxford University for a semester, to explore the settings of many events studied in class.
- Gain exposure to Africa's fascinating history in addition to studying the history of Western civilization.
- You may complete an internship for credit. Past students have worked in area museums and archives.
- Explore different worldviews and learn to appreciate Christianity in new ways.
- Learn from interesting guest speakers who visit classes from time to time, sharing their unique perspectives on world events.
- Join the History Society, which offers fun opportunities to socialize with other History majors at barbecues, field trips and other gatherings.

Bachelor of Arts in History

Interesting Courses You May Take

Introduction to the Study of African History – Explore the main phases of Africa’s history and development. Get acquainted with Africa’s political and social organization and representation through the colonial period.

The Reformation in Europe – Examine the development of Protestantism as a social, economic, political and religious reaction to the status quo of European society.

Stuart England – This course focuses on selected topics and themes in late-Tudor and early-Stuart England. Topics include the political, social and religious context of the times and various interpretations of the period’s events. Students are encouraged to identify themes of personal interest for their major research paper.