Dear members of the Academic Standards and Appeals Committee,

1. State specifically what you are asking for -- for example, your wish to have the "W" notation applied to course grades, be permitted to have an extension, or to be permitted to continue on Academic Probation, etc.
2. State specifically your situation with all of the relevant circumstances and grounds for appeal. You will have to be specific about dates of illness and/or events. You should adhere to the facts and events that are relative to your appeal.
3. State clearly how medical or compassionate grounds (typically outside of the student's control) negatively impacted your academic performance.
4. Refer to any attached documentation and to any documentation to follow.
5. Indicate how you will positively address the pursuit of your studies in the coming semester and/or how you will manage to control the situation if adverse conditions continue.

Sincerely,

Your name (typed or printed)

Your student number

Supporting Documentation for Academic Appeals

1. Appeal letter (in all cases).
2. Medical doctor's notes, and/or notes from other health care providers related to your appeal (where applicable).
3. Copies of all correspondence relating to your appeal (in all cases). Examples:
 - With instructor
 - With faculty
 - With administrators
 - With other university officials, etc.
4. A letter of comment (in all cases). It must be sent to the Registrar's Office from any affected professors, or the Faculty Head for your program.
5. Any, and all, additional information or documentation that may be considered relevant to the matter at hand. Only materials received in writing will be considered.
