

COVID-19 CRITICAL AID ASSESSMENT FORM

Crandall University, in coordination with the Province of New Brunswick, is pleased to provide critical support to eligible Crandall University students during the uncertainty of the COVID-19 Pandemic.

Eligible Students:

- Full-time students of any nationality who were studying at Crandall University in the 2020 Winter semester as of March 12, 2020.
- Students who are not eligible to receive funding from any of the following:
  - Canadian Emergency Response Benefit (CERB)
  - Employment Insurance (EI)
  - Student Loans or Grants
  - The “$900 one-time New Brunswick provincial emergency fund payment”
  - Other financial aid provided by any level of government that may come into being prior to the awarding of funding through this program
- Applicants must be able to demonstrate lost income or insufficient savings.

“Student Need” expenses may include but are not restricted to the following:

- food
- shelter
- unanticipated medical costs not covered through health plans
- unforeseen additional academic support required by students due to COVID-19 (e.g. laptop, tutoring, internet)

If you require assistance as a result of unemployment or other reduction to income due to COVID-19, and are ineligible for additional support, as noted above, please complete all the information below and return the form as directed.
